

PETERSBURG TO HAVE LEAGUE TEAM

Open Rumor That They Will Buy Roanoke Franchise.

It is practically certain, although the final arrangements have not as yet been consummated, that Petersburg, which has always been a good baseball town, will get the franchise of one of the smaller Virginia cities, and that the team of that city which Petersburg buys out will be transferred to the city on this season as the Petersburg team. There is little doubt that the transferred team will be either that of Danville or Roanoke, and it is reasonably certain that the Highlanders will become the peanut city's property.

The attendance in Roanoke has shown a great falling off of late, and as the people of Petersburg are deeply interested in the national game, and can guarantee a good average attendance, there is no doubt as to the wisdom of the move and of the fact that the deal will be put through, which will again put Petersburg in the Virginia State League.

In an interview last night Mr. W. B. Bradley said that there was little doubt that the deal would be closed in the near future, which will bring the team of one of the smaller baseball places, either that of Danville or Roanoke, more probably the latter, to Petersburg for the remainder of the season.

Mr. W. Gordon McCabe, Jr., of Petersburg, an ardent and enthusiastic lover of baseball, is at the head of the move to procure Petersburg a franchise in the State League. For several years Mr. McCabe has managed the cruck run crick team on their way to the patrons of the sport good amateur baseball this season.

Mr. McCabe is financing a stock company, of which he is the head, and it is understood that the franchise in question will be bought through it. The Highlanders have a good team, and with the support of the Petersburg public they should give that city winning ball.

Mr. McCabe has been communicating with last night in regard to the purchase of the Roanoke franchise, but it is practically an open secret that the Highlanders will in the near future represent Petersburg in the Virginia State League.
